

Item # 495 040, Beige End Bracket
List Price $0.38

Beige End Bracket

To prevent terminal blocks from falling of the DIN Rail, they must be secured on each side. This is accomplished with end brackets screwed onto the rail. Two end brackets are necessary - one on each side of the continuous assembly designed.

· SPECIFICATIONS · CERTIFICATIONS

SPECIFICATIONS

|               |                                                                                               |
|---------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Thickness     | 8 mm                                                                                          |
| Type          | KD 3                                                                                          |
| Standard Pack | 100                                                                                           |
| Color         | Beige |

CERTIFICATIONS

|                |                                                                                                                        |
|----------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Certifications | RoHS (EU directive 2002/95/EC) |
|----------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|